

WORK2015 – Work and family

Chairs:

Mia Hakovirta, University of Turku, FI

Milla Salin, University of Turku, FI

Of all various aspects, linkages between work and family, work and life can be described as the most complex ones. Especially for the Nordic countries, the labour market systems as well as welfare policies are built on established connections between work and family. For many other countries, these relations are not so tight. These questions invite papers ranging from macro-level aspects to micro-level perspectives on complex relations between work and life.

Wednesday, 19 August at 8.30-9.30 - Session 1

25.01

Work-family reconciliation and subsequent career development among Finnish employees
Miia Ojanen, Finland

25.02

Babies and Broomsticks: Cross-National Effects of Time Constraints, Income and Parental Role Models on Men's and Women's Contributions to Family Care and Household work
Kathleen McGinn, USA

Wednesday, 19 August at 11.30 -13.00 - Session 2

25.03

Outsourcing domestic tasks and work-life balance: A Swedish case study of buyers' experiences household services
Christopher Gronberg, USA

25.04

Entrepreneurs' tactics for segmentation and integration of work, family, social life and private life
Jean-Charles E. Languilaire & Carole Caulier Gustavsson, Sweden

25.05

Self-reported need for rehabilitation and care responsibilities among aging employees in Finland
Hanna Rinne, Finland

Wednesday, 19 August, at 15.30-17.30 - Session 3

25.06

Implementation and Configuration of Temporary Time Offs - An Empirical Study in Companies in Germany
Sarah Altmann, Germany

25.07

Labour Organisation, Work-Life Balance and Collective Bargaining
Carla Spinelli & Pierluigi Digennaro, Italy

25.08

Part time work in the Nordic countries - a critical discussion of prevailing explanations, omissions and challenges
Cathrine Egeland, Norway

25.09

Mothers' re-entry into the labour market after a family related absence - the role of public childcare offers in Germany
Katharina Diener, Germany

Thursday, 20 August, at 8.30-10.00 - Session 4

25.10

More part-time work to mothers of young children in Finland? Controversies of policy and practice
Minna Salmi, Finland

25.11

The career interruption after childbearing
Katja Pohjola, Finland

25.12

The role of care solutions on mothers' labor market outcomes when children are born in a short time period
Anita Haataja, Finland